

Application No. 09/491,747
Amendment Dated April 19, 2006
Reply to Office Action of December 19, 2005

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

In response to the Office Action mailed December 19, 2005, the Examiner's claim rejections have been considered. Applicants respectfully traverse all rejections regarding all pending claims and request an early allowance of these claims.

1. Introductory Comments

Claims 1-22, 26 and 27 are pending in the present application.

Claims 1-3, 9, 11-13, 21, 26 and 27 are rejected by the Examiner under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fisher et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,835,896) in view of Brett (U.S. Patent No. 6,907,405) and further in view of Davis et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,269,361).

Claims 4-8 and 14-20 are rejected by the Examiner under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fisher et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,835,896) in view of Brett (U.S. Patent No. 6,907,405) and further in view of Davis et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,269,361).

Applicants respectfully request reconsideration of the rejected claims.

2. Response to Claim Rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a)

Of the pending claims, claims 1 and 11 are independent claims. For brevity, and because the Applicant's arguments in traversal of the rejection of the independent claims are equally applicable for the relative dependent claims, the Applicant will address only the independent claims in this response. However, traversal is made with the understanding that the remaining dependent claims are patentably distinct over the prior art and may include additional features that, beyond those recited in the independent claims, provide further, separate, and independent bases for patentability.

The claimed invention predates Brett, which is the newly cited art in the Office Action. Nevertheless, the Office Action relies solely on Brett to teach the element of checking for whether a first bid from a first bidder exceeds a second bid from a second bidder and incrementing or decrementing the bid to maintain the desired position. However, Brett has a filing date of February 7, 2001, which is more than 1 year after the filing date of the present application, January 27, 2000. Further, in the previous Office Action, the Applicant established that his invention date was before July 1, 1999.

Brett does refer to a chain of related applications and patents. Only two of those references predate the Applicant's invention, namely, U.S. Patent 6,023,685, filed February 7, 2001 (the '685 Patent), and U.S. Provisional Application No. 60/018,211 (the '211 Provisional Application), filed May 23, 1996. However, both the '685 Patent and the '211 Provisional Application fail disclose even an automated auction system. In this regard, there is no way that either of these systems could implement a method that checks for whether a first bid from a first bidder exceeds a second bid from a second bidder and increments or decrements the bid to maintain the desired position in an auction.

The bids are performed manually by the bidders in the prior art systems described in the '685 patent and the '211 Provisional Application. These systems merely provide an Internet link to handle receiving bids and determining the winner.

In summary, the newly cited art, Brett, is not prior art to the Applicant's invention, and the Office Action relies solely on Brett as a basis to teach an element of the claims. The only references related to Brett that pre-date the Applicant's filing date do not teach this element. Thus, Applicant submits that he has traversed the rejection of the Claims.
